commentembarrassment. The late Chancellor of eisting of Dwelling House and spacious Godowns. the Exchanger did seem to have carried confidence in the elasticity of the Revenue to its highest point, and to have almost dared a deficit by the small margin which he left in his Estimates. But the result shows that there was no reason to be maximus. The Revenue still increases, and at a rate which seems to show that in a year or two will further advances may be made in relieving the public burdens. Though by the last two Bu igets so great an amount of taxation in the best taken off, and though our expenditure is moderate still excessive in the marker of military and naval armaments, there is now little doubt that in 1867 the Chancellor of the Exchanger of that period will be able to forego a further pro ortion of his demands on the public nurse. The hest proofs of A at the corner of Chancery Lane. Bont the elasticity of the national resources are justly imoderate. supposed to be given by the Customs, the Excise, and the Income Tax. These three divisions of the Revenue are in an emin ativ actisfactory state. The Quarter just ended given an increase of £152,000 as compared with the corresponding A HOUSE and STORE, situated on the Quarter of last year; and the Holf year, simis Peage, adjoining the Gollowns of Messre, Gibs, larly compared, gives an increase of £315,000. The product of the Excise during the same TH MAR & Co., Ship Chandlers, ' periods has increaseed £128,000 on the Quarter, and £167,000 on the Half-year. In spite of great and almost incessant reductions year after year, this country raised, during the twelve in inthe which ended yesterday, £31,024,000, by Contoms, and £20,255,000, by the Ercise. These stunendous amounts are made an without imposing any intolerable burden on adividuals, and nowhere, with the exception of the finnishing American people, ore forty millions sterling so lightly and cheerfully paid. The on a consumption so immense that they represent the North-cost owner of the Calcada de St. reason is that these great sums of money are raised a comparatively unimportant addition to private expenditure It is only in the matter of alcoholic in the occupation of Messr .
